This unit's most valuable asset is its unique weapon, the "Silver Tail," which has both offensive and defensive functions. Composed of fibers of a metal alloy with a plastic-like "memory," the Silver Tail flies at will by means of a magnetic drive. The unit's main body is a commercial humanoid robot, since it serves only as a base for the tails and to house the magnetic drive. The Silver Tail is believed to have potential as more than just a weapon, and is currently R.R.Corporation's highest priority project.
